Beautiful plastic baubles with decoration inside

v16210

This technique is so simple, it's even suitable for little fingers! Tear beautiful paper into pieces, find beautiful vintage die-cuts, sprinkle glitter and put it all inside the two-piece transparent plastic bauble. Decorate further glitter glue and feed a ribbon through the loop at the top ... and that's how easy it is.

How to do it: Tear tissue paper into small pieces.

2 Open up the transparent plastic bauble and decorate both halves with 3D liners or glitter glue. Leave to dry.

3 Attach vintage die-cuts onto the inside of the bauble with glue lacquer. Leave to dry.

4 Glue or scrunch up and place the pieces of tissue paper inside one half of the bauble and close it.

5 Feed a ribbon through the loop at the top of the bauble and hang.

A tip If you are working with young children, then you can skip the glueing of vintage die-cuts and paper inside the bauble and instead just scrunch up the paper and place inside the bauble. (The vintage die-cut will slide to the bottom of the bauble without glue). Apply glue to the all of the inside of the bauble and sprinkle glitter into the wet glue OR dilute the glue lacquer with water and apply to one half of the bauble, close the bauble and shake. Pour out the excess glue lacquer mixture and sprinkle with glitter. Leave to dry and place pieces of paper inside. Remember to let the glue inside the bauble dry completely before closing the bauble in order to avoid moisture inside the bauble.
