

Space people from Uranus

v11282

The space people from Uranus are extremely intelligent aliens! But they have one major weakness; they have no eyes. To help the problem, they have used their large brains and developed an advanced technology that helps them to see. That's why they have eyes on all their belongings and spaceships. Without these objects they cannot see. The space people are very interested in other space creatures and animals. They catch them and put them in cages for their zoos, but it's not easy because a lot of the space creatures are very dangerous and certainly not interested in being trapped and living in a cage.
