

A Macramé Necklace with Cones and Beads

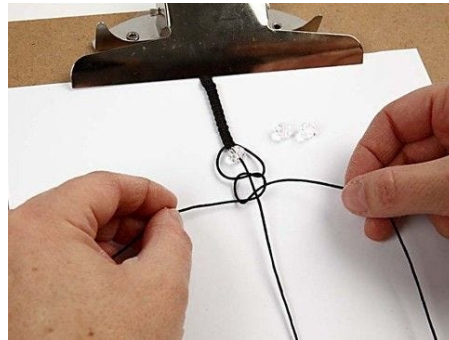

v12249

This macramé necklace is made from lightly waxed soft cotton cord linked with beads in between. The pendant is made from a silver cone and a glass faceted teardrop shaped bead on a ball head pin.

Comment faire

1. Cut one piece of thin lightly waxed cotton cord measuring approx. 6m and one piece measuring approx 0.85m. Start as shown, making a double loop for a bead.

2. Braid approx. 70cm, attaching a bead for every braided 3.5 to 4cm. Double the spacing in the middle of the necklace.

3. Finish the necklace by attaching the last bead and tying a knot with all the cords.

4. Make a pendant from a silver cone and glass faceted teardrop shaped bead on a ball head pin.

5. Attach the pendant onto the necklace with an oval jump ring.
