

The Rainbow Layer Cake made from round Boxes decorated with Silk Clay Creamy v14919

The unicorn layer cake is made from round boxes painted with craft paint and decorated with Silk Clay horns and ears. They are decorated further with Silk Clay Creamy and art metal gold paint.

Comment faire

1 Draw stripes with a pencil on the large box.

2 Paint stripes between the pencil lines with craft paint on the large box.

3 Paint the small box with craft paint.

4 Roll out a piece of Silk Clay measuring approx. 30 cm for the horn.

5 Lightly squeeze the middle and twist the ends around each other to form a horn. Finally cut off the end.

6 Roll out a piece of Silk Clay for ears, cut in half as illustrated.

7 Roll out a piece of Silk Clay for ears, cut in half as illustrated.

8 Lightly press the horn and the ears onto the small box lid. (Silk Clay sticks onto items without using glue).

9 Paint the horn and ears with Art Metal gold paint.

10 You may make Silk Clay Creamy decorations on a piece of plastic. Leave it to dry before removing them from the plastic. They should still remain slightly sticky so that they stick onto the box lid. Alternatively leave them to dry completely and then glue them onto the box lid.

11 Decorate directly on the box lid.

12 Place the finished lid on top of the box.

13 Draw eyes with a pencil. Make sure that the joint of the box is at the back.

14 Draw the eyes with a black permanent marker. It is important to use a permanent marker – otherwise the pen line rubs off.

15 Place the small box on top of the large box and draw the circumference of the box lightly onto the large lid. Only decorate the outer edge of the large box with Silk Clay Creamy. Remember to leave enough space for the small box to be placed on top.

Another variant -