

A knitted Egg Warmer from knitted Tube with a Pom-pom

v15589

Make your own egg warmers from knitted tube using baby merino wool and a knitting mill. Finish with a pom-pom at the top.

Comment faire

1 Knit approx. 1 m knitted tube using the knitting mill.

2 Slightly unravel one end of the knitted tube, exposing the stitches. Pick up the four stitches with a yarn needle.

3 Secure the end inside the tube to keep it hidden.

4 Sew the knitted tube together into a coil as shown in the photo. Sew the same row of stitches together for a uniform finish.

5 You may sew around a polystyrene egg to keep the shape.

6 Sew the coil into approx. 7 rounds and pick up the four stitches from the other end of the knitted tube with a yarn needle.

7 Secure the wool end.

8 Turn the right side out.

9 Make a pom-pom by winding the wool from the ball approx. 40 times around the narrow end of the pom-pom tool. Tie a knot around the wool and cut open both ends as shown in the photo.

10 Sew the pom-pom onto the top of the egg warmer.
