

Place cards in off-white shades with a punched-out church and vellum paper

v15651

Make your own place cards in off-white shades. Punch out a church for decoration and use vellum paper as a front page. Assemble the manilla tag and the vellum paper with a piece of mercerised cotton yarn.

Comment faire

1 Punch out churches from white paper using the die-cutting and embossing machine.

2 Write a name on the manilla tag and glue the small church onto the manilla tag using a glue pen. Cut a piece of vellum the same size as the manilla tag and assemble the two with a piece of mercerised cotton yarn.

3 Fold the church and glue it together so that it can stand on its own. You may use the church as table decoration.
